

Lithia Springs Resort Service Animal Policy

If you have a pet that is not a service animal, we ask that you honor the good work of service animals by not claiming that your pet is a service animal.

We may ask you:

1. Is your animal a service animal required because of a disability?
2. What work or task has the animal been trained to perform?

Hotel Policies:

- Service animals must be housebroken.
- Service animals must never be left unattended in guest rooms.
- When a service animal is in a foodservice area, it must remain on the floor in a location that is out of all paths of travel at all times.
- Please do not allow your service animal to use any outdoor patio areas as their restroom.
- As a guest, you are responsible for cleaning up after your service animal and disposing of any "results" of their walks. There are pet waste stations places around the ground for such disposal.

By signing this document, I acknowledge and agree to all policies above. I also agree that should any of these be violated, I may be subject to immediate eviction without any refund.

Emotional Support Animals

Not Protected Under the ADA

(Under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA): "Emotional support animal (ESA), "companion", and "comfort" animals are not "service animals" protected by the ADA.

A service animal is defined as an animal that has been individually trained to do work or perform tasks for an individual with a disability. The task(s) performed by the animal must be directly related to the person's disability.

These guidelines for welcoming service animals are in compliance with the Department of Justice ADA regulations.
